A restoration project on the Mangakotukutuku Stream in a habitat for threatened and endangered native fish species.

This project will see the removal of woody weeds, construct 6km of fencing and will establish 25,400 native plants. The work will restore small seeps, wetlands and streams within the upper Peacockes branch of the Mangakotukutuku Stream. This is an area where threatened and endangered native fish species are known to live. WRA 15-026.
