To whom it may concern,

I am in writing in regards to the Waikato Regional Councils policy (Policy 6) Rule 3.11.5.7 regarding the restriction of land use change.

As it stands, the policy appears to have no provision for the addition of Commercial vegetable Production, even where the producer can demonstrate decreases in discharges of nutrients and sediment as a result of the land change.

It is imperative for the ongoing health and sustainability of the Waikato regions soils that crop rotations i.e land use changes are ongoing, as these rotations restrict the build up of unwanted weeds, pests and diseases as well as assist considerably with maintaining soil structure.

It is my belief that land use changes should remain a permitted activity where supported by a relevant Farm Environment Plan (FEP), risk analysis and ongoing water quality testing.
